EDITORS APPEAL—The tax-ridden people of Shelby county had congratulated themselves upon the conservation and economy which had been inaugurated at the commencement of the present term of the honorable county court. They halled the reduction of the rate of taxation as an earnest system of retrenchment and reform, which would characterize the proceedings of the court during its entire session, and, resting under this impression, great was their amazement at the extravagant proposition now before the court, wit the purchase of the Overton hotel for the purpose of couverting it into a courthouse. The county court will most certainly act upon this proposition with reflection, and not utterly disregard the opinions of almost the entire tax-paying and mercantile portions of this community. The people will hold them responsible if they so far forget the duty they owe to the county.
